THE OTAY Mesa is located some sixteen miles southeast of SAN DIEGO. Is a beautiful, undulating body of table land, comprising some 15,000 acres. Is soon to be watered from our Reservoir, now in course of construction. This superb body of land is at a sufficient altitude to be entirely free from frost. Is inland some eight miles from the Ocean on the west, and is crowned by mountains on the east. The climate is delightful. No hot or cold days.

PREFACE.

WITH this volume I begin the publication of an Annual Directory of San Diego City and County, and from the very liberal patronage received I feel that my efforts are appreciated. In presenting to the public the Directory for 1887–8 I wish to call attention to the evidence it contains of the marvelous growth of San Diego.

The number of names contained in the General Directory of Names for San Diego City is 7,000, which is 5,300 more than were published in a Directory issued a year ago—an increase of 312 per cent. The increase of population has been greater during the last twelve months than during any previous year, and should we base our estimate upon the usual method (that of multiplying the number of names in the Directory by 3½) we could show a population of about 25,000. But as we wish to make a low estimate we have multiplied the number of names by three, and find that San Diego now has a population of at least 21,000. A glance at the Classified Business Directory will show a corresponding increase in the number of manufacturing and mercantile enterprises started in our midst—conclusive proof of prosperity and progress.

In the County Directory can be found a complete list of the business and professional men of every town in the County—39 in number—many of which have been built within the last year.

I have endeavored to make this, my first Directory of San Diego, worthy of the City, and hope it will meet the approbation of all.

An illustrated monthly magazine, devoted to the recording of original investigations and thought, and the popularizing of the natural sciences. Eminent American scientists are contributors.

Its circulation in San Diego County is doubtless not greatly exceeded by any publication, while the bona fide subscribers reside in nearly every State and Territory in the Union and in various foreign countries.

"I like it more and more and think it most useful."—W. M. Canby.

"I would thank you for the pleasure it gives me each month."—H. C. Ford.

"Comes regularly and is DECIDEDLY the best of its class."—Geo. W. Tryon Jr.

It is the first and only purely scientific journal recognized west of the Rocky Mountains. Of importance to advertisers is the news of the consolidatien of the Naturalist's Companion, late of New York, and the Hoosier Naturalist, of Indiana, with THE WEST AMERICAN SCIENTIST, which has also the subscription list of Tidings from Nature, formerty of Rutland, Vermont, all lately secured by C. R. Orcutt.

A SUBSTANTIAL SAVING IN MONEY.

You have no hesitancy in sending away from "home" for almost every other conceivable thing; but when it comes to CUSTOM CLOTHING, a chief necessity, the argument always advanced is, that to be good or to get a fit it must be made at "home." Let us disabuse you of this idea.

Elsinore.

Population 1,000.

Spring or summer, fall or winter, Elsinore is a pleasant resort. It is 1,280 feet above the sea, and combines the climate and health of all the famous resorts of Southern California in one. The daily mean temperature is 71 degrees. The town of Elsinore is situated on the line of the California Southern Railroad, midway between Los Angeles and San Diego, nestled in an alcove at the foot of a rugged mountain. To add to the beauty and attractiveness of the town, Lake Elsinore, a beautiful sheet of water, and the only lake in Southern California, spreads out before it a distance of seven miles in length and three miles wide. The surrounding country is rich in minerals and in agricultural resources. The prevailing soil is the light sandy and gravelly loam, of a dark chocolate color, pronounced the very best for fruits, vineyards and deciduous trees. Around the head of the lake is some moist and semi-moist land of dark rich mould, which produces abundantly. The Lake Colony has been estalished there for three years, and they have made wonderful strides in developing the resources of the valley, and in beautifying the town during this time. As a summer resort it has become deservedly popular. The attractions, aside from the pure atmosphere and delightful climate, embraces many worthy of mention. The lake is encircled by a magnificent drive of sixteen miles, and forms the most pleasing feature of the town for visitors and residents. "Lady Elisore," a small steamer, with accommodations for seventy-five passengers, twenty-five sail-boats, two catamarands, and four large yachts, are constantly flitting about upon the placid waters and furnish a constant round of pleasure.

The sounding of this body of water shows 300 feet, and it is fed by the San Jacinto river, giving the purest and best of water for domestic purposes. There are numerous mines in the neighboring hills, where gold, silver, tin and asbestos are found. Fire-clay of the finest and best quality is found in abundance near the town. The pottery made from this clay is pronounced superior to the Akron, Ohio, or Peoria, Illinois, wares. A fine body of coal is now being mined from the adjoining hills, near the farming lands of Elsinore. The vein is from four to seven feet thick.

The Hot Springs of Elsinore have become notorious for their curative qualities. They are called the "Carlsbad Springs" on account of their properties being so nearly similar to the celebrated springs at Carlsbad, Germany. The town of Elsinore is situated near these hot springs, which makes it convenient for invalids. Various testimonials have been voluntarily given to the public by persons who have found relief from the use of these waters.

There are untold beauties in and aronnd Elsinore which never fail to attract the eyes of visitors and call forth exclamations of wonder and surprise. An avenue ten miles in length, bordered on either side with beautiful shade trees, extends from the town to Riverside street. It is called Grand avenue, and is one of the most beautiful drives in the State. From the shores of this lake and from this avenue the perspective is grand. To the west is seen the gray peak of "Old Baldy," eastward of this the Cajon Pass, where the A. T. & S. Fé enters the valley; still further east, the towering form of San Bernardino, and directly eastward, the San Jacinto Peak, whose show-capped summit furnishes the pure water of Lake Elsinore.

This beautiful town, which has grown as if by magic, without the aid of brass bands and orators; merely by its own intrinsic worth, aided by the attractive lake and rich soil, can boast of some very costly and handsome residences, hotels and business blocks. The business men are all doing well, and contented with the present outlook, believing as they have every reason to believe, that Elsinore will be a city of no mean proportions at no distant day. It has two very fine churches, and an excellent public school, and with its wonderful hot springs it is bound to become a popular resort for people from all parts of Southern California.

To add to the attractiveness and the pleasure of Elsinore the enterprising citizens have secured the building of an electric railroad to encompass the lake—a distance of sixteen miles—thirteen of which has been put under contract. The balance will be contracted for just as soon as the right-of-way can be obtained and subscriptions secured to complete it. The Enos system has been adopted, and it will afford rapid transit, with ease and comfort to passengers, pleasure seekers and travelers generally. They hope by next Christmas to have the road completed. They also propose, in connection with the system to light the town with electric lights.

The large square in the center of the town, which takes in the springs, has been converted into a handsome park, which has been adorned with trees, flowers, grass plots and fountains, and bath buildings of the most approved style have been erected, fitted up with porcelain bath-tubs, plunge and swimming baths, hot baths, cold baths and mud baths—everything that can be found at any of the famous old mineral springs resorts of the country.

The building up of manufacturing establishments has already commenced. Sewer pipe, water pipe and terra cotta cotta works, which will cover five acres of ground, are now being built, and work will be commenced in a few days on a nail factory, which will be the largest on this Coast, with the exception of the famous Judson Nail Works at Oakland.
